

The Longview Lake Neighborhood Association Has New Leadership!

Bios: (following the picture from left to right)

Shelley Takei and her husband, Frank, live at 2532 Albemarle Avenue. They are semi-retired. They are adjunct faculty at Atlantic University, where Shelley teaches Psychology and Frank teaches Philosophy. They came to Raleigh almost two years ago, joining their daughter, Nikki, an interior designer. Daughter, Allison, who teaches gymnastics and dance, moved here last fall. Son, Quinn, a doctor of oriental medicine, and his wife and daughter will be joining the family here next spring.

Sam Green and his wife, Iantha, live at 2329 Bertie Drive. They have lived in Longview for many years, raising their son Samuel O'Keith here. Sam Green grew up in Rutherford County, attended Fayetteville State University, and did his graduate work at North Carolina Central University. He served as Assistant Principal at Millbrook High School for eight years, and Principal for six years, until his retirement in June, 2002. Sam is very active in the First Baptist Church of Raleigh where he serves as a Deacon, member of the Church Council and Laymen's League.

Barbara Risman lives at 2326 Bertie Drive and is one of the founders of The Longview Neighborhood Association. She is professor of Sociology at North Carolina State University. Barbara does research and writes about changes in the American family. Her most recent book is "Gender Vertigo: American Families in Transition". She is the proud mother of Leah Kane Risman, a 10th grade student at Enloe High School. Barbara is active in her synagogue, Temple Beth Or, where she serves on the ritual worship committee.

Charles Putterman and his wife Michelle moved from North Raleigh to 121 N. King Charles Road in the summer 2001. Charles is the senior litigator at the Law Office of James Scott Farrin and handles serious personal injury litigation. Michelle is the Coordinator of the Welcome Baby Program for SAFEchild, a non-profit child abuse prevention agency. They have four children; two of whom are in college, one in high school and the youngest in Middle School.
