Features

Contemporary openness - Classic 1915 bungalow character

This restored home is nestled on a quiet, one-way street of bungalows that is a Historic Oakwood jewel. Double doors lead from the dining room out to a two-level deck that in the future could be enclosed as a screened porch. Handsome low standing-stone walls line the winding pathways in the front and fenced back yard. An unfinished partial basement provides storage and space for a future workshop.

Inside, the 31ft long great room easily accommodates 3 separate gathering spaces. Bookshelves and cabinets line the interior walls of the sun/family room added in 1990s. Window seats with storage space below, walls of windows and plantation shutters make this an extraordinarily versatile room. Adjoining bedrooms with a connecting door add to the versatility of the floor plan that includes a true master suite with a full private bath. Cornered windows contribute to the brightness and character in each bedroom. A second full bath was added when the home was successively renovated in the 1990s. The current owner has painstakingly cared for the home and added extensive and exquisite landscaping.
